

PRODUCT SAFETY RECALL

Gü Double Sea Salted Caramel Frozen Dessert 2x85g

PRODUCT IDENTIFICATION:
Lot N° 126135
BBE 30/06/2027

Gü are recalling this specific date code of their Gü Frozen Double Sea Salted Caramel Dessert. This is because a small number of products may contain an incorrect dessert containing hazelnuts and soya lecithin, which are not declared on the ingredient label. As such, these products may pose a food safety risk to people with an allergy to nuts, hazelnuts or soya.

The issue is limited to a very small number of products (believed to be less than 10 units). However, as a precautionary measure and in line with our commitment to consumer safety, the affected date code is being recalled.

If you have purchased one of the affected products, please do not eat it if you have an allergy to nuts, hazelnuts or soya. Please return the affected product to the store where a full refund will be given. No receipt is required.

We have taken proactive steps to further mitigate the issue, including strengthened allergen and packing controls within production. We believe the majority of consumers who purchased the affected products will already have been contacted or notified.
