We are aware of a recent rise in severe feline pancytopenia cases, which has been identified by the Royal Veterinary College (RVC).

Whilst the reason for this rise in cases is yet to be confirmed, we have been working at pace with the RVC, the Food Standards Agency (FSA), suppliers and manufacturers and a potential issue has been identified to a specific supplier site.

As a result, we are supporting the manufacturer's decision to withdraw and recall from sale AVA and Applaws dry cat food ranges with immediate effect as a precautionary measure whilst further investigations are carried out.

For any concerns or queries, please speak to a store colleague who will be happy to support.

No other products have been affected by this issue. Pets at Home would like to apologise for any inconvenience caused.
