BUYING VETERINARY MEDICINES ON THE INTERNET

The GBGB's expectation is that veterinary medicines used on greyhounds in training are obtained and used legally. A simple way to achieve this when buying medicines online is to only use a retailer that is enrolled in the VMD Accredited Retailer Scheme.

Internet Retailers who have met the accreditation scheme's requirements are issued with a logo to indicate their accreditation and customers can confirm accreditation by clicking on this link <https://www.gov.uk/check-animal-medicine-seller-accredited> on the VMD's website. The image below shows the logo:

The Veterinary Medicines Directorate (VMD) is responsible for the authorisation and control of the manufacture and marketing of animal medicines in the United Kingdom.

The VMD inspects premises in the UK that manufacture, distribute and supply veterinary medicines including internet retailers to ensure the quality, safety and efficacy of veterinary medicines that are sold in the UK.

A large proportion of UK based websites are legitimate, run by qualified professionals and adhere to the UK's Veterinary Medicine Regulations (VMR). There are however a number of sites, including those overseas, that are in breach of the UK's VMR. The following information is designed to help you legitimately buy safe and effective veterinary medicines when using a site that is not VMD Accredited.

Trainers must be aware that all medicines must be supplied from within the UK. The purchase and holding of medicines bought from outside the UK is illegal as is the purchase of these medicines for onward sale, including those purchased via the Internet.

This includes those products intended for use as anti-parasitic treatments which may be licensed for use in other countries, but which are not licensed for treatment of dogs in the UK, for example, unlicensed worming tablets such as Fidos Closasole and Biheldon.

The VMD have the power to seize unauthorised medicines without compensation. Repeat offences may result in prosecution.

Key Points

- All medicines must be supplied from within the UK
- Any products must be UK authorised medicines
- Labelling must be in English (multi-lingual labels may be used for products authorised in more than one country)
- The product must bear a UK marketing authorisation (MA) number.

The UK Marketing Authorisation number, seen here as Vm24883/4004,

must be present on all veterinary medicines sold in the UK.

- Only products that display an authorisation number in the above described format should be used. For prescription medicines (POM-V or POM-VPS) the person selling the medicines must be a vet, pharmacist or suitably qualified person.
- To check whether a product is approved use the following link to the VMD: <https://www.gov.uk/check-animal-medicine-licensed>

If you buy veterinary medicines from an unaccredited retailer without making the necessary checks, you risk buying an unauthorised veterinary medicine that potentially puts you in breach of the law and therefore GBGB rules.
