2. Rules for the contest

The World Championships are played as single matches in the preliminary round.

Playing time is full time as follows:

Full time for each group:

WCSW 2 x 45 minutes

Y23 men 2 x 45 minutes

Y19 men 2 x 45 minutes

Y17 men 2 x 45 minutes

Y15 men 2 x 35 minutes

Y17 women 2 x 35 minutes

Playing time can also be 2 x 30 minutes (when two matches on one or more days in the preliminary round).

FIB TC / EC decides if matches can be played 2 x 30 minutes.

Special remark: In Y23 men and Y19 men, semifinals will be played. These matches should be played full time. If semifinals and final games will be played on the same day, the playing time will be 2 x 30 minutes.

Team 1 and 2 play the final. Team 3 and 4 play the bronze-match. Team 5 and 6 play for fifth place. These matches should be played full time (except: if two matches per day).

There is no day off for rest.

Special remark: In WCSW, if maximum of seven teams participating, the tournament will be played in one group.

If eight teams or more two equal groups will be formed, based on the ranking from the previous World Championships. When two groups, semifinals and placement matches have to be played.

In general: The playing model could be different and flexible, this must be decided by FIB TC / EC.

- 2.1 The team winning the final becomes the champions.
- 2.2 If a game in the preliminary round ends with a draw and the two teams can end up with the same number of points at the final table, there shall be a penalty stroke competition which is decisive to rank the two teams. If the two teams can not end up with the same number of points at the final table no penalty stroke competition will be executed.
Penalty stroke competition: five penalty shots for each team (different players). If it is still a draw the penalty shots will continue one by one until a decisive result has been attained (different players (14) excluding goalkeepers).
In the preliminary round the result attained after playing time is counted.
- 2.3 The points are decisive for the placing in the preliminary round.
- 2.4 Should the points be equal for two teams the result between these two teams in the preliminary round is decisive. If a draw the result of the penalty strokes is decisive (see point 2.2).
- 2.5 Should the points be equal for three teams the score difference or – if this is equal - most scored goals (after playing time) attained in the matches between these three teams is decisive.
If the rule above in this paragraph can decide about the ranking for all three teams, the following rule is not to be used:
If one team can be separated (out of these three) the result in the preliminary round between the remaining two teams is decisive if the score difference and most scored goals are equal (see point 2.2). Proceed to 2.7.
- 2.6 Should the points be equal for four teams the score difference or – if this is equal - most scored goals (after playing time) attained in the matches between these four teams is decisive. If the score difference and most scored goals are equal for two teams see point 2.2 and 2.4.
- 2.7 Should still no separation be possible, the score difference from all the matches in the preliminary round is conclusive. Teams separated by points 2.5 and 2.6 have their place in the preliminary round but the score difference from the matches with these teams is included in the total score difference for all teams.
- 2.8 If it is still impossible to separate the teams, it has to be done by drawing of lots.

- 2.9 All matches played after the preliminary round are to be played until a winner is nominated. If it is a draw after playing time the match(es) shall be extended with "sudden death", maximum 20 minutes (2 x 10 minutes), and after that penalty strokes (see point 2.2). Sudden death means that the match ends when a goal is scored.
