Risks of cryptocurrency trading include, but are not limited to, the following:

- 1. General Market Risk: The market for cryptocurrencies is still new and uncertain. No one should invest funds they are not prepared to lose entirely. Whether the market price will move up or down, or whether a cryptocurrency will lose all or substantially all of its value, is unknown. This applies both to cryptocurrency traders that are going long and to traders that are going short. Participants should be particularly cautious about holding cryptocurrencies for any extended period of time and they should pay close attention to their position and holdings, and how they may be impacted by sudden and adverse shifts in trading and other market activities.
- 2. Liquidity Risk: Markets for cryptocurrencies have varying degrees of liquidity. Some are more liquid while others have very thin liquidity. Thin markets can amplify volatility. There is never a guarantee that there will be an active market to sell, buy, or trade cryptocurrencies or related products. Ibinex makes no representations or warranties about whether a cryptocurrency currently available on its platform will continue to be available in the future. Any cryptocurrency is subject to delisting without notice or consent. Ibinex may suspend or cease to support the transfer, storage, or trading of any cryptocurrency at any time, in Ibinex' sole discretion. Other exchanges and service providers may do the same.
- 3. Legal Risk: The legal status of certain cryptocurrencies may be uncertain. This can mean that the legality of holding or trading them is not always clear. Whether and how one or more cryptocurrencies constitute property, or assets, or rights of any kind may also be unclear. Participants are responsible for knowing and understanding how cryptocurrencies will be addressed, regulated, and taxed under applicable law. Ibinex may suspend or reject your transaction requests, suspend or cease support for any cryptocurrency, or suspend or terminate your access to Ibinex' platform to comply with applicable laws or regulations, an order from law enforcement or other governmental authority, for other reasons as specified in our Terms of Service, or in Ibinex' sole discretion.
- 4. Exchange Risk (Counterparty Risk): Having cryptocurrencies on deposit or with any third party in a custodial relationship has attendant risks. These risks include security breaches, risk of contractual breach, and risk of loss. Participants should be wary of allowing third parties to hold their property for any reason.
- 5. Currency Risk: Your account with Ibinex will be held in EURO which may be different from the currency you used to deposit the initial funds; accordingly, you should be aware of currency fluctuations.
- 6. Internet Transmission Risks: You acknowledge that there are risks associated with utilizing an Internet-based trading system including, but not limited to, the failure of hardware, software, and Internet connections. You acknowledge that Ibinex shall not be responsible for any communication failures, disruptions, errors, distortions, or delays that you may experience when trading via Ibinex, no matter how caused.
