How to best support Mike at work

- Staying organised- Give me time to complete a task and be clear with me what you want me to do.
- Be direct with me- Don't avoid a problem, be honest with me and I will try my best to sort it out.
- Don't interrupt me- If I am busy, send me an email or leave a note and I will get back to you at the next available time.
- Time management- Give me a gentle nudge or question me if it looks like I am avoiding something that needs doing.
- Keep me informed- Let me know the priority of completing different task.
- Have fun- Share a joke with me if it looks like I'm stressing out slightly.
- Sharing is caring- Share good practice and different ideas to help me improve my own practice.
