

Tuesday evening was the 'Run Around Quiz' which should only ever be said using the Xfactor style voice! The children were split into 4 teams and had to, surprisingly, run around the camp finding answers to questions given to them. With teams such as FlapJack and Yellow Duckies the chants coming from the children were interesting to say the least. With the eventual winner crowned with a bag of Starburst it was early to bed (at 9.30) for the children who didn't take too long to settle.

Wednesday morning and the tables have turned the teachers are full of beans and the children are looking more than a little tired! Off for raft building later...
