

Mental health: How aware are you?

Are you one of the 38% who would not know how to spot a child with a mental health problem?

The MindEd Consortium – a group of mental health experts – and partners, commissioned a poll of 2,105 adults to gauge their level of knowledge and awareness of child and adolescent mental health.

Visit minded.org.uk for more information thought schools should have regular interaction with a mental health specialist

