

Dalton School

This year our school governors made the decision to lower the school age to the age of three. This has enabled us to introduce a pre-school age-group. The children have settled into school life tremendously well and have been such an asset to our school.

In September five children started in our pre-school class. They quickly made themselves at home!

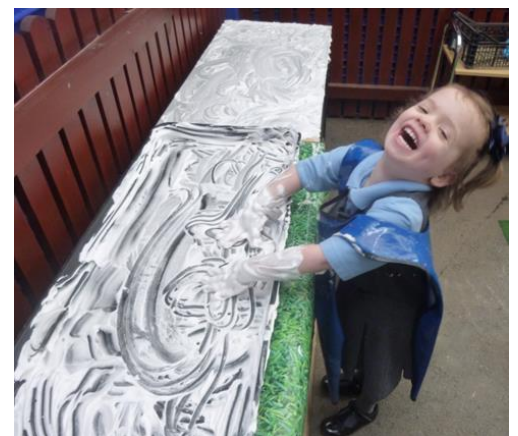

Most of the children knew each other quite well as they had been attending Dalton Dinkies since they were babies.

All the planned activities link to stories encouraging the children to learn through play.

Learning is lots of fun and often involves food!

Learning takes place inside and outside...

The children find out about their environment in an interesting and interactive way.

We now have nine children who attend our pre-school. They are firm friends. We are delighted that all these children will be part of our Reception Admission in September 2016.

Since the beginning of June some children have stayed for additional sessions in the afternoon also. Our Governors will review this at the end of term and make a decision about introducing this facility in the new academic year.

We have some places available for our pre-school in September 2016.
