Newsletter 17

January 27th 2017

Our Early Years children have been reading 'We're going on a Bear Hunt' this week. After listening to the story they have painted, written about the parts of the story and had a great deal of fun acting out the story in the outdoors. They particularly enjoyed their Teddy Bear's Picnic and making their own bear toast.

Years one and two have been making their own clay pots in R.E. Their theme for this half-term is

'Jesus is a Special Person'. In this lesson they were learning about the miracle of Jesus turning water into wine.

In years three and four the children have been learning about 'fronted adverbials'. They included many examples in their writing today. Sophie and Oliver excelled themselves! They will be reading their stories out at our Celebration Assembly on Monday morning if you would like to listen to them!

Thank you to the children from Year six who led Collective Worship in Church this morning. They very capably explained about 'Love' giving examples from everyday life and the Bible.

Stars of the Week

Reception: Isaac for being kind to Mr Atkins and giving him his paper heart (linked to our Collective Worship this morning)

Year one: James for making a super water jug out of clay in R.E.

Year two: Oliver for a brilliant story starter

Year three: Oliver for making his teachers smile all week with his quieter, sensible behaviour (and still demonstrating his enthusiasm!)

Year four: Bethany for producing some great writing this week and reading it so well 'in the spotlight'

Year five: Tristan for working really hard on making his sentences complex and adding adjectives

Year six: Elijah for working hard to solve the 'murder mystery' in Maths
