Dear Anne

I am writing to thank you for coming Souththroyd Primary School last Friday and telling us more about natural disasters.

As we were learning about Volcanos, we thought it would good for you to come because you know more about Volcanos as it is a natural disaster. I was saddened when you told us a baby had died from malaria, you made us good Samaritans. I was happy to hear that some droughts in Africa had more water after Christian Aid had made too them a will.

You help us alot and found our work easier after you came. When you answered some of our questions, I thought I knew more about Natural disasters than I had ever known before. Now we know how bad natural disasters are, we can give some money.

Thanks again

Yours Sincerely

Ana-maria
