Newsletter 36

July 7th 2017

Over the last few weeks we have been fortunate enough to watch the stages in the transformation from a caterpillar to a butterfly. Mrs Edgington very kindly bought us a kit to enable us to see the process at first-hand. Each morning the children were excited to see the changes overnight.

On Monday, it was time to release the butterflies. All the children in school were close enough to watch their first flights...

Some children managed to carefully hold them.

It has certainly inspired the children to produce some lovely work inside and outside school. Please look at their work on display in the corridor.

Please look out for the reports we plan to send out to parents of children from Reception to Year 6 on Monday. Nursery reports will be sent to parents in the last week of term.

Stars of the Week

Nursery: Sam for articulating a full sentence clearly to an adult

Reception: Mikey for his brilliant drawing in the style of LS Lowry

Year one: Ellis for his fantastic extra homework that he asked to do

Year two: Amara for her super seaside collage

Year three: Ellis for his commitment and motivation during all tasks this week, particularly during transition days

Year four: Lexie for being so caring and looking after the younger children during break times

Year five: Haydn for a super piece of written work with adventurous spelling

Year six: Molly for an excellent report about Borwick Hall using a formal and informal style
