

Fascinations in the Oak Room

Well it is our last week before the half term. We have been so busy settling into new routines. All the children have worked so hard and are making tremendous progress. Well Done!

This half term we had a mysterious cake arrive. This sparked all sorts of creative thinking as to who the cake was for, why it had been left and whether or not we should eat it! Later in the session we returned only to find an empty plate and a letter from a hungry tiger! We were all so shocked! We decided to make our own cakes as a result.

We continued with the Tiger who came to tea story throughout the week. Look at the things we got up to!

Some of us weighed out food for the Tiger.

We explored the properties of tea and this led to us hosting a giant tea party on Friday where we sampled different fruit teas.

We are this week celebrating Diwali! All the children have been exploring the celebration. We have made diva lamps, learnt new Diwali songs and holding a Diwali party!

Exploring patterns – making Rangoli patterns.

Making salt dough diva lamps.
