Newsletter

Friday 3rd November 2017

Welcome back to school and nursery after the half term break. On Monday we had a visit from three trustees from the Maxell Educational Trust. This year Maxell are sponsoring the reading prizes we give out and they came to see it in action. They really enjoyed seeing children collecting prizes and working towards receiving a book after 50 reads.

Please can we remind parents not to park on the yellow zig-zags outside the school entrances. These markings are designed to keep people safer when entering and leaving the school site.

Look out for information from School Council about voting for us at Tesco so we can receive between £1000 and £4000 funding towards developing our school allotment area

Head lice and Threadworm

We have had cases in school this week of head lice and threadworm. Detailed information was sent home on Thursday about how to treat and prevent these problems.

Please encourage your child to wash their hands before eating and after going to the toilet .

Please also check your child every week for head lice.
