Newsletter

Friday 24th November 2017

Across school and nursery everyone is starting to get busy preparing for all the different Christmas activities coming up over the next few weeks.

It has also been a busy week with more exciting Science and creative activities. Our School Council had 'Arts Ambassadors' training on Thursday so they can be involved in developing our arts provision across school and nursery. Also on Thursday our Playground Buddies introduced some new playground toys during assembly. The Playground Buddies chose which toys to buy and have set their own rules for using these toys.

Please return any consent forms for flu immunisations (school only) to your child's teacher or the main office by Monday.
