Mrs Britton's class had a thoroughly enjoyable day on Tuesday taking part in a range of outdoor activities covering many areas of the curriculum.

As it was their first 'Forest School' it was important to discuss the rules for safety.

They worked in teams throughout the day. One of their first activities was to make sure they had dry places to sit.

The children enjoyed their lunch of pitta pizzas, marshmallows and hot drinks cooked by Mrs Britton in their own fire pit. The children are looking forward to more adventures outside investigating the outdoors in different seasons. Well done to all involved and Thank you to Mrs Britton.

The 'Secret Santa Bingo' organised by the PTFA takes place tonight in the school hall from 6.00pm.
