Headteacher's Award

Green Grapes

Harvey Nurse for remembering to sound out all the letters he needs in really tricky words such as green and black.

Yellow Pineapples

Joe Brennecke for initiating more conversations with adults and his friends around the setting.

Purple Passion Fruits

Oliver Wealthall for coming back to school so enthusiastically and being a good role model.

Red Strawberries

Yuchen Sun for being enthusiastic about joining in with activities at Mill Park.

Blue Blueberries

Theo Egan for returning to school with such a positive attitude.

Peachy Peaches

Ruby Langmead for always being a fantastic role model for other children.

'Famous Author in the building!'

Last year saw the Friends inviting author Stuart Reid into our school to work with our children and open the refurbished library.

I am really pleased to tell you that we have our very own resident author in school!

Mrs Wigston has been really busy writing and her first book 'Tommy Wallis, The Knight of the Hollow' is being released on 31st January.

The book can be pre-ordered on Amazon and we will be having our very own launch event on Thursday 1st February (more information to follow).

We are so proud of Mrs Wigston and wish her lots of success-watch this space for information about book 2!
