

The Unbelievable University

DUN! DUN! DUN! DUN! DUN! DUN! DUN! It was a very loud noise expanding in London University. This great, football cake stood in the centre of the college like a monument. Nothing better could ever happen to the university sports centre. The U23's team were going to verse Luton Town. They were as good as each other. But if you were here, one person could spoil the fun and action at any time. George. He was an absolute mastermind at ruining time. The cherry on the cake was that he was promoted for the team.

"Uh, guys, please can I join this football team. I have great skills, I'll be a game changer!" or "Please professor, may I go to the toilet? I'll study even better when I arrive." and "May I play with him, I'll tell him we'll have to be nice to each other!". What he didn't notice was as he was getting older, his excuses were becoming more childish. As childish as a teletubbie. He is a teletubbie! George had to put a full stop to this. But How? Before you knew it, he was marching onto the pitch. Seeing all of the stars there. Then, he started to do something again...

"Miss, Is too 'ot 'at 'ere. Can I go in nah'?"

"Don't be stupid" the teacher replied. Gosh, haven't even been out here to or for 1 minute!

All the team got into their positions. A 3-3-4 tactic. He was one of the defenders in the U23's youth team. HOOOT! KICK OFF! The game has started. 4 minutes later, Luton were on the run, George had intercepted but the ball just stayed at his feet!

out

"Miss, look at this bird. Look likes a paper

crow!"

"GEORGE! STOP!" the teacher screamed. He did still play though. He thought he'd saw a flying pig alongside another paper crow.

"GEORGE, GET OUT! YOU HAVE MADE LUTON HAVE A 5-0 LEAD!" GET OUT

erupted in the conclusion of this thought

"GET OUT EXCLUDED!" George couldn't believe this had happened. What kind of teacher would ever do this to a learning

• Makes mistakes and gets kicked out

• Went onto

joining another

university

• Never even stayed for a term and

his future wasn't worth

hearing about

...

student about to graduate from education.
"Take off your jacket" the teacher yelled at him.
"Mans not hot!"