Dear Parents,

We have certainly had a busy week after returning to school from the snow days, which I know the children all thoroughly enjoyed.

I am pleased that all parents looked at the apps, school website and school closures website as we didn't have any unexpected arrivals, apart from one child, who battled through to collect their snow boots!

A big thank you to Mr. White, Mrs Wood and Mrs Crouch who all turned up to open the school and run breakfast club as usual and then all stayed until the start of the school day in case any children did arrive. They all had to then battle their way back home through the snow, on foot. Thank you!

We started our book week with the children dressed as a wide variety of different book characters. They had all made such an amazing effort and looked fantastic. Mr Eggleton and Miss Meade held the whole school in fear for the day, dressed as Mr. Snape and Miss Trunchbull. Mr Eggleton seemed to enjoy acting as his character a little too much and we all breathed a sign of relief when he finally removed the wig!

On Tuesday the children all had a great time reading books inside their dens.

Wednesday started with the Mother's Day Breakfast, which was very successful. The bacon rolls seemed to go down well! This was followed by each class taking part in a drama workshop— all the children learnt lots and said how much they had enjoyed it.

Thursday was Mother's Day Lunch, once again we had a hall filled with mums, nans and aunties. Thank you so much for all being so patient! Chartwells had a total of 123 dinner to serve. I think they did pretty well in the timespan!

Thank you to the FOBS team and all the mums who gave up their time (once again) to run the Mothers Day Gift Sale for the children. There were so many lovely things for the children to buy. I am sure there will be happy mums and nans on Sunday!

Fir Tree had a lovely treat of a tractor arriving on the school field for their Wheels and Rails topic. Thank you to Mr. Singleton.

Next week, Year 6 will be sleeping overnight on HMS Cavalier, they are all very excited about this opportunity, although I think we will have some tired children returning to school on Friday!

Finally, a massive thank you to the church shop who have donated £399 to the school, which alongside a very generous parent donation and the donation from The Bell, has enabled us to purchase a new reading scheme. More information will be sent out regarding this scheme at a later date.

St David's Day fell on one of the snow days, so we have rescheduled the tag day for Friday 16th March. If your child is in St David's they may wear something yellow on that day. St Patrick's Tag Day is also on that Friday so if they are in St. Patrick's they may come to school in something green.

Best Wishes
