What personal data we collect

SASHA collects personal data from its members comprising name, address, email address and telephone number. Occasionally other personal data may be collected from sources such as enquiries from visitors via our website, by email or in writing and via the S&SHA Shop at www.jumblebee.co.uk/SASHA (See Jumblebee for their privacy policy)

SASHA will use personal information provided by members during their membership to maintain the Associations membership records and to communicate details of its activities. We may on occasions also send members details of local historical events run by other local history and similar groups.

Any communication received by SASHA via its website, email or in writing will be used to contact and communicate with you about your enquiry.

We do not share your data with other organizations

How we will store the data

Personal details of members are kept in a paper file and also on a secure database both of which are maintained by The Secretary, Stockcross and Surroundings History Association 15 Bartlemy Close Newbury RG14 6LE. Email: info@stockcrosshistory.org.uk

Membership data will be kept during the period of your membership of SASHA and for three months after your membership has lapsed, been cancelled by you or your death.

Personal details of enquirers requesting/offering local history information are kept securely (as above) and deleted from electronic files after three months.

How can I submit a 'Subject Access Request'?

You can submit a subject access request by writing to The Secretary, 15 Bartlemy Close, Newbury, Berkshire RG14 6LE

Will this privacy policy be updated?

SASHA regularly reviews its policies, including its privacy policy, and may make changes from time to time.
