Monitoring vs observability

Monitoring

Monitoring system should address two questions: what's broken, and why?
The "what's broken" indicates the symptom. The "why" indicates a cause.

Monitoring vs observability

Monitoring

- reports overall system health
- key systems metrics, logs, dashboards
- for alerting, troubleshooting, system performance, capacity planning

Observability

- granular insights into system behavior
- detailed metrics, enhanced monitoring, log aggregation, dashboards, data analytics, machine learning
- for alerting, debugging complex troubleshooting, system performance, capacity planning
