

Design your own mythical beast!

Myths and legends are ancient, traditional tales that have been passed from one person to another, often for generations. These stories tell of mysterious and magical creatures that live among us. Some of these beings could be mistaken for familiar animals, such as hares, horses and squirrels, but can give themselves away by speaking, changing shape, casting spells or suddenly growing to an enormous size. Others are outwardly fantastical and more easily spotted, such as dragons and unicorns, the Basilisk with its deadly venom, or the giant, water-loving Rainbow Serpent.

In the space below, describe or draw your own mythical creature.
What does it look like?
Where does it live?
Does it have any special powers?
