Fund Manager comments

Echiquier Agenor SRI Mid Cap Europe G turned in a positive monthly performance of 2.81% and of 0.86% year-to-date.

The fund continues to be penalised by its positioning on growth stocks, in a market context favourable to cyclical companies and those exposed to the reopening of economies or rising interest rates. Our aim is to take advantage of this environment by identifying investment opportunities in attractive growth companies whose valuations seem to have returned to attractive levels. To this end, we recently increased the fund's exposure to the renewable energy sector, which has been heavily impacted in recent months. We participated in NEOEN's capital increase, a position initiated at the time of its IPO in 2018 and which we had significantly reduced at the end of 2020. We believe the valuation level of the transaction is attractive and that it will enable the group's strong growth to be financed between now and 2025. We also maintained a significant position in ACCIONA, the Spanish infrastructure and energy company that is one of the industry leaders in Europe with nearly 10 gigawatts in operation. The upcoming IPO of its subsidiary Acciona Energia is, in our opinion, a major factor in the group's revaluation.

Comment

La Financière de l'Echiquier (LFDE) is adopting an ambitious climate strategy and adapting its climate governance. This strategy is broken down into nine commitments for clients and companies that go beyond the recommendations of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD). LFDE, a pioneer in responsible investment in France, is deploying the pragmatic and transparent strategy in combination with an annual evaluation and review process in order to respond to the climate emergency. Designed in partnership with I Care & Consult, the ambitious plan includes training in climate-finance issues for LFDE's Board of Directors and Executive Committee, as well as for all of its teams, in order to integrate climate issues into its various businesses and decision-making processes. Its scope is identical to that of LFDE's approach for environmental, social and governance (ESG) integration. The strategy is available on the LFDE website under "Responsible Investment – To find out more".
