Fund Manager comments

“ Echiquier AltaRocca Convertibles G turned in a -0.41% monthly performance and a 5.40% performance year to date.

The start of autumn was dominated by the primary market for the convertible asset class. There were no fewer than eight issues during the month, raising close to EUR 5 billion. The issuers were varied, with familiar names such as VEOLIA, UBISOFT and MTU AERO refinancing their existing tranches but also new entrants such as WIRECARD and KERING, among others. EDENRED completed its first issue of EUR 500 million maturing in 2024, with a 40% premium and a negative yield. Your fund participated in this issue as the outlook for the underlying stock remains good after a solid first half in all regions. We also took advantage of the new UBISOFT issue to close out our position on the very sensitive 2021 tranche and expose ourselves to the 2024 maturity, which has a much more convex profile. We believe that the stock still has significant upside potential which compensates for the high issue premium of 65%. In addition, the convertible offers a buyback that would be very profitable in the event of an M&A transaction.
