How best to support me at work

- Give me time to think a problem through – I am not good at making instant decisions.
- Be on time for meetings – lateness annoys me more than it should.
- Prepare for meetings – please don't turn up and say 'I've not had time to read the papers'.
- If you don't understand what I am trying to explain please say and I'll try a different approach.
- When I'm thinking about something I am told I look worried – please don't read too much into my body language, if I don't like something I'll speak up.
- If you think what I am asking is not doable please let me know
