The CMX725 versatile headset microphone was designed for a wide series of vocal applications, ranging from speeches to aerobic lessons.

The high Sound Pressure level sees to it that even hard, vigorous sound won't distort the sound reproduction, while the omnidirectional polar pattern reduces feedback to a strict minimum.

The flat frequency response ensures a high-fidelity sound reproduction, true to the user's voice and intonation.

Provided with foam windscreen and, the CMX725 is ready to use in a variety of applications, whether the user needs to sit down or move around.

The omnidirectional pattern reduces the feedback to a minimum. The tiny design doesn't decrease its performance, but enhances the user's comfort and makes wearing it almost unnoticeable, both to speaker and audience.

It is available in Black and Skin Color and comes with 4 different replaceable connectors making it suitable for use with belt packs of various major manufacturers.
