I. Privacy and Cookies Policy

1. Who we are and what we do

The Company under the name "GOING BEYOND E.E." and the distinctive title "EVENTURE" (hereinafter "the company" or "our company" or "we" or “EVENTURE”), is a Greek company based in Nea Ionia of Attica and has GEMI number 162866103000, email address info@eventure.gr, Telephone 2160702929, and website www.eventure.gr, with the main activity of providing services for the organization of scientific or cultural events, organization of training seminars, organization of trade exhibitions, as well as exhibition space management services.

For the purposes of providing its services, the company may proceed with the collection and processing of personal data of natural persons, in accordance with the current Greek legislation (Law 4624/2019), as well as the Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation, hereinafter "GDPR") and therefore may act as a "Controller".

This Privacy and Cookies Policy aims to clarify the personal data processing practices followed by our company and to describe the way in which EVENTURE processes and protects the personal data (hereinafter "Personal Data") of natural persons (hereinafter the "Data Subjects") disclosed to it either during the use of the Website services or through the use of EVENTURE services (participation in conferences/events and general use of tourist services provided by EVENTURE) or through contracts with Data Subjects (e.g. contracts with EVENTURE employees), explaining what Personal Data or other personal information may be collected during your use of our website (our website) and services, how and why we collect such information, why we use your personal information, when and to whom we may share and disclose information about you, and how you can manage information about you and exercise your rights as provided by the GDPR.

By providing Personal Data to EVENTURE (either directly or indirectly by allowing another person to provide Personal Data on behalf of the Data Subjects), Data Subjects agree that this Policy applies to how EVENTURE uses their Personal Data and consent to collection, transfer, processing, use and disclosure thereof, as described herein. In the event that Data Subjects do not agree with any part of this Policy, they are requested not to provide Personal Data. If they do not provide Personal Data, or withdraw the consent they have provided under this Policy, this may affect EVENTURE's ability to provide services or adversely affect the services that EVENTURE can provide.

This Policy does not under any circumstances cover the relationship between Data Subjects using the EVENTURE Website and any services that are not under the control and/or ownership of the EVENTURE Website. Given the nature and volume of the internet, under any circumstances, including in the case of negligence, EVENTURE is not liable for any damage suffered by Data Subjects who use the pages, services, options and contents of the EVENTURE Website in which they proceed with their own initiative and with knowledge of the terms of this Policy.

2. Collection and Use of Personal Data

We may collect and further process different types of Personal Data in the course of operating our company and in the provision of our services through our website. Particularly:

A. EVENTURE collects Personal Data when:

- the Data Subjects use its services (participation in conferences/events and general use of tourist services provided by EVENTURE) and when the Data Subjects, through the EVENTURE Website, register, by completing a registration form, in its advertising/informational/promotional programs for upcoming events / conferences (hereinafter "Informational Programs").
- the Data Subjects communicate with EVENTURE through their Website
- enters into contracts with Data Subjects
- receives them from third parties (e.g. companies, tourist agencies) in the context of cooperation and provision of information.

B. In the above context EVENTURE may collect, store and use the following types of Personal Data, through a variety of means and in different ways. Specifically:

- basic Personal Data, contact details and information provided by the Data Subjects for the purpose of communicating with EVENTURE, registering in the Informational Programs as well as using its services
- any other information that the Data Subjects choose to disclose to EVENTURE (either through its Website or in any other way) and is relevant for the purpose of fulfilling their personal requests and that pertains to the business object of EVENTURE (organization of conferences, events, business and educational trips) – in this case the information may also extend to the family members of the Data Subjects
- any information that Data Subjects choose to disclose to EVENTURE for the purpose of entering into and performing a contract with it
- data sent by third parties (e.g. companies, travel agencies) to EVENTURE in the context of cooperation and information provision.

In particular, the information that EVENTURE may collect from the Data Subjects either during their use of the Website's services, their communication with EVENTURE and their registration in the Informational Programs, or through the use of EVENTURE's services (participation in conferences/events and general use of tourist services provided by EVENTURE) or through contracts with Data Subjects (e.g. contracts with EVENTURE employees) are the following:

- Personal information (e.g. Name, Surname, Contact Address, Contact Phone, E-mail Address, etc.)
- Financial data (e.g. Credit/debit card details, bank account details, etc.)
- Job Data (e.g. Employment, Position / Job Title, Place of Work)
- Log files of communication with Data Subjects
- Website usage data, such as data from website visits or information collected through cookies.
- Any other personal data about the Data Subjects that they may provide.

C. We collect and further process your Personal Data for specified, clear and legal purposes, as described in this Privacy and Cookies Policy, which are justified under European and national legislation regarding the protection of personal data, and we do not further process your Personal Data in a way that is incompatible with those purposes and data protection laws.

In particular, EVENTURE uses the Personal Data of Data Subjects for the following reasons:

- To provide the requested services to the Data Subjects
- For the informative support of the Data Subjects regarding the services provided
- To meet the requirements of the Data Subjects regarding the services available from and through the EVENTURE Website
- To respond to questions and requests addressed to EVENTURE by Data Subjects
- To inform Data Subjects about new offers / categories of services by sending them promotional / newsletters via emails and/or sms, unless they have requested not to receive such newsletters.
- for EVENTURE internal and quality assurance purposes
- for the purpose of executing a contract concluded on behalf of EVENTURE
- for other purposes as provided or required by law (e.g. EVENTURE's compliance with its legal obligation, or for the protection of its vital interests or the interests of the Data Subjects or when the processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests that EVENTURE pursues)

3. Security of Personal Data of Data Subjects

EVENTURE takes appropriate legal, organizational and technical measures to protect the Personal Data of Data Subjects, as well as technical measures to protect the Personal Data of Data Subjects in accordance with applicable data privacy and security legislation. EVENTURE uses a variety of security technologies and procedures to protect Data Subjects' Personal Data from unlawful destruction, loss, misuse or alteration, as well as from unauthorized or unlawful processing, use or disclosure.

Security measures include, but are not limited to, physical, technical, administrative, electronic and procedural safeguards, a firewall, physical access controls to our data centers and information access permission controls. Our security procedures also mean that we may occasionally ask for proof of identity, in order to verify your identity, before we communicate with you or before we disclose any personal information to you.

Although we will do our best to safeguard your Personal Data once we receive it, especially for any data we receive through our website, we note that we cannot guarantee the 100% security of data transmission over the Internet or other public network.

In general, we will retain your Personal Data for as long as is necessary to fulfill the purposes for which the data was collected and any other permitted related purposes. We will delete or re-identify the Personal Data of the Data Subject as soon as it is no longer necessary for the provision of our services and/or the performance of our business purposes and/or for the performance on our behalf of the concluded contract and/or for legal reasons, or as otherwise provided by the applicable legislation for the protection of Personal Data. Where the processing of Personal Data is related to the services we provide or to the establishment, exercise or defense of a right before a court, we will retain your Personal Data until the deadline for the satisfaction of the claims has expired or the claims have been settled, or in order to comply with the legal requirements regarding the retention of such data.

4. Non-Disclosure of Personal Data to Third Parties

Unless otherwise specified in this Policy, EVENTURE undertakes not to sell, rent or in any way publish or share the Personal Data of Data Subjects with any third party.

Furthermore, EVENTURE undertakes not to disclose the Personal Data of its Data Subjects to third natural and/or legal persons except:

a) if the Data Subjects have provided their express consent and (i) the third party (natural or legal person partner / supplier / service provider of EVENTURE) has provided clear guarantees regarding the technical and organizational measures governing the processing to be carried out and (ii) the third party (natural or legal person partner / supplier / service provider of EVENTURE) has entered into a written agreement with EVENTURE which imposes on the third party obligations similar to those of EVENTURE in accordance with the provisions on privacy

b) if this is required due to EVENTURE's compliance with the relevant provisions of the law and to the competent and only any prosecuting, police, investigative and judicial authorities, in response to their request

c) in relation to any legal/judicial proceedings or impending legal/judicial proceedings

d) for the purpose of establishing, exercising or defending its legal interests, – including providing information to regulatory, prosecuting or other authorities for the purposes of preventing and dealing with fraud, unauthorized use of services and illegal activity.

EVENTURE undertakes not to transfer Personal Data of the Data Subjects to third countries outside the European Union without the prior written consent of the Data Subjects unless EVENTURE and the recipients of the Personal Data have concluded and use standard contractual clauses which have been approved by the European Commission and which are an annex to the Commission decision of 5 February 2010 on the transfer of personal data to processors established in third countries (2010/87/EU).

5. Rights of Data Subjects

Data Subjects may exercise the following rights deriving from the provisions of the GDPR as well as the applicable legislation which implements or supplements it or which is otherwise related to the processing of Personal Data of natural persons, together with the binding directives and codes of good practice issued from time to time by the relevant supervisory authorities:

Access right: Data Subjects have the right to access the Personal Data processed by us and possibly receive a copy of the data and/or additional information in relation to its processing.

Right of rectification: If the personal information we hold about Data Subjects is inaccurate or incomplete, they have the right to correct, update or amend it by contacting us at the above contact details. Alternatively, a related request can be sent to the following email address: info@eventure.gr

Right to erasure: Data Subjects have the right to request the erasure or removal of their personal information in certain circumstances, such as when we no longer need it or if they withdraw their consent (where applicable).

Right to restrict processing: Data Subjects have the right to request the restriction of the processing of their Personal Data in certain cases, such as when they question the accuracy of their Personal Data, or when the processing is unlawful and they object to the deletion of their Personal Data and request the restriction of their processing, instead of their deletion, when their Personal Data are not required for the purposes of the processing, but are nevertheless required for the recognition, exercise or defense of a right before a court, and when they object to the processing and pending verification if their our legitimate grounds for processing override their own rights.

Right to object to processing: Data Subjects have the right to object at any time to the processing of their Personal Data in cases where the processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by us as controllers.

Right to data portability: Data Subjects have the right, in certain circumstances, to obtain the personal information they have provided to us in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format, and to transmit it to another controller for re-use or to request from us to transfer them to third parties.

Right to withdraw consent: If we rely on Data Subjects' consent as a legal basis for processing their Personal Data, they have the right to withdraw consent at any time. However, please note that the withdrawal of consent does not affect the lawfulness of the processing that was based on the consent in the period before the withdrawal.

Right to submit a complaint to the Personal Data Protection Authority

For any issues related to the processing of your personal data, you may contact the Data Protection Officer (DPO) of STINI AIKATERINI in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). The appointed DPO for STINI AIKATERINI. is Ms. Anastasia Sipka, who can be reached at: dpo@eventure.gr .

To exercise any of your above rights, you have the right to file a complaint with the Personal Data Protection Authority (www.dpa.gr), Telephone: +30 210 6475600, Fax: +30 210 6475628, Email address: contact@dpa.gr

To exercise the above rights or for any question, Data Subjects can contact EVENTURE:

Through the relevant contact form or by sending an email to the email address info@eventure.gr or

By letter to the address indicated in the Preamble hereof.

6. Links to other websites

EVENTURE through its Website may sometimes provide links to third parties or incorporate third party websites. This Policy does not apply to those websites and EVENTURE is not responsible for the privacy policies or practices of those websites. If Data Subjects choose to enter a linked website, they agree that EVENTURE is not responsible for the availability of that website and does not control, endorse or be responsible in any way for:

the way in which Personal Data of Data Subjects is treated on these websites

the content of these websites

the use of these websites by others

EVENTURE advises Data Subjects to take care in advance and always check the legal and privacy statements posted on any linked website or mobile application before entering any of their Personal Data.

7. Applicable law

The management and protection of the Personal Data of the Data Subjects is governed by the terms of this Policy, the provisions of the GDPR which came into force on May 25, 2018 as well as by the applicable Greek legislation which implements or supplements the GDPR or which is otherwise related to the processing of Personal Data of natural persons, together with the binding directives and codes of good practice issued from time to time by the relevant supervisory authorities (see European Commission).

8. Amendments

EVENTURE reserves the right to occasionally update this Policy and post the latest version on its Website at any time without notice. If material changes are made EVENTURE may either post a relevant notice about the changes on its Website or notify Data Subjects by sending a notification via their email address and/or mobile phone number provided by them. EVENTURE encourages Data Subjects to periodically refer to its Website and check for any changes, as well as periodically refer to this Policy to stay informed of how EVENTURE contributes to the protection of the Personal Data it collects.

If Data Subjects continue to use the EVENTURE Website, this implies that they agree to this Policy and any updates. If a Data Subject does not agree with the Personal Data protection conditions provided for in this Policy, they must not use EVENTURE's services.

II. Cookies policy

Cookies are small electronic files, consisting of letters and numbers, which are stored on the user's electronic device when visiting a specific website. Cookies help optimize the user's Internet browsing by anonymously collecting information about their interests and needs.

On our website we use cookies, in order to improve your browsing, connection and movement on our website. All information collected is anonymous and is used solely to optimize the structure and content of our website.

Cookies can be removed from the electronic device on which they are stored at any time on the initiative of the user and based on the settings of the internet browser used.

Information about online safety

EVENTURE website follows the SSL (Secure Sockets Layer) data transmission protocol

To distinguish whether a website has ssl, it is sufficient to see the prefix with which its address begins in the address bar of the browser. Websites that have ssl begin with the prefix https://www. while those that don't have start with http://www.

SSL ensures the safe transfer of data from the website to any destination (another website, e-mail or even to the same website) because it sends all data encrypted.

For example: When a user fills in a form to participate in a conference, he puts in a lot of personal information. When the send button is pressed, these data are saved on the server. During the process of storing these data on the server (essentially transferring the data from the website to a database located on the server) all data is encrypted. So if a hacker or malicious program tries and retrieves this data it will be useless to them as it is encrypted and cannot be used.

More about ssl: https://www.hiremycode.com/blog/giati-xreiazeste-ssl/