Yasmin Gasimova

As your Guild Vice President, I am closely involved with student issues and the higher education sector. I am committed to supporting the movement for a free, accessible and liberating education. In particular, I think it's vital to protect students welfare. The increased pressure on young people to compete with each other in employability and academia, the rising housing costs and recent increase in hate crimes has had an unprecedented effect on students' wellbeing. We need to have a bigger national agenda around mental health and protecting vulnerable students and I will make sure that the NUS leads on these issues.

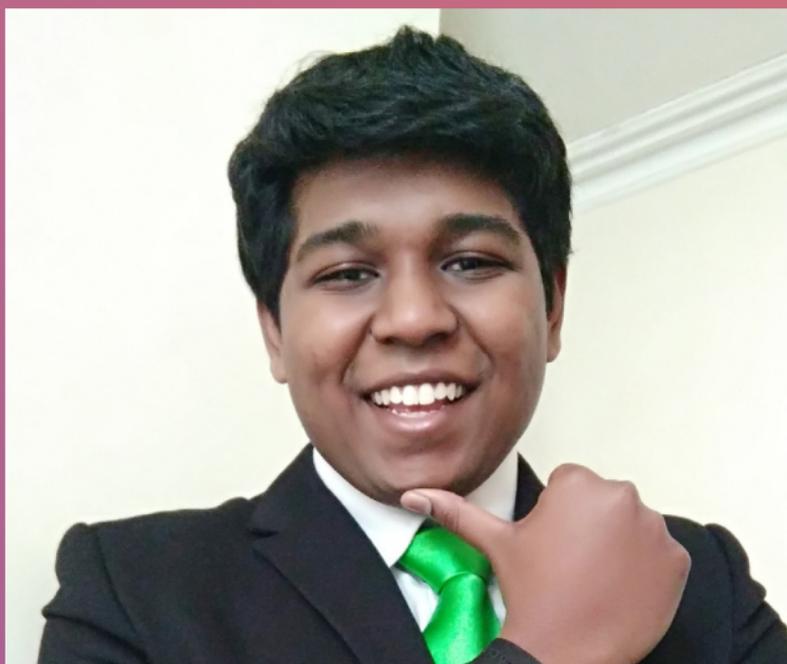

I will make sure to consult with students to form the best motions for conference, and I will do my best to represent our union on the conference floor. Vote for me to get the effective and informed decision making at our National Union of Students!

Siobhan Griffiths

Student experience is hugely important to me and attending NUS Zones Conference earlier this year fuelled my passion to create the policies that will affect Guild members and fellow students. Throughout university I have been a part of many different sectors, beginning as the politically disengaged fresher, to eventually running for Student Officer. I have also been part of a sports team; held several roles on a society committee; been an active member of other societies including LGBT+ and Mental Health and therefore feel I would be capable of representing a wide variety of students at Liverpool.

Ananda Mohan

As a student officer, I ran on the promise that is you vote Moh, you get More. In the short few months as student officer, I have already implemented a housing rights awareness campaign as well an interfaith week, two key manifesto points. As such, I like to believe I am a man who keeps his word. Moreover, as part of my role as student officer, I have attended a few NUS conferences and have gotten to know how the NUS system works giving me experience and ability to understand how to better promote our students' interests when making policy and voting at the national conference.

I promise to continue to work for students by holding the NUS accountable to their actions as a delegate and to ensure that the NUS does not lose sight of its main goal of serving all students to better enhance the student experience.

I HAVE:

- Represented students at NUS national conf. last year and passed two successful motions on refugee-access to education and one on mental health
- Sat on the highest decision making body of the University of Liverpool, The Senate
- Been a course representative since the start of my degree
- Represented African, Arab, Asian or Caribbean students at NUS black student winter conference this year
- Been Amnesty's (UoL) Refugee officer for 2015/2016
- Experience with large-scale conferences (e.g. World Disaster Relief Summit in Washington D.C.)
- Represented students from different minorities via society committees e.g. I am ArabSoc's president this year

I WILL:

- Fight for free education
- Support your cause and facilitate activism
- Support international students
- Consult students about policy put forward at conference
- Fight for equal access to education for refugees and asylum seekers
- Fight discrimination and intolerances on our campuses

Farrah Talsi

- Represent Liverpool students and vote to shape NUS policy in line with current Guild policies
- Vote against increased tuition fees, postgraduate and international student fees
- Supporting motions to tackle the BME attainment gap
- Fighting against sexual harassment within the night time economy and tackling 'lad culture' on campus
- Support campaigns to improve the representation of women and black students across the student political movement
- Ensure full support of any motions to tackle rise in fees and scrapping of grants
- Hold NUS officers to account and ensure full transparency from NUS as an organisation
- My extensive experience in various roles within the Guild means I am well versed in representing the students of this university and understand the work the union has been doing: President of Legal conversations and Research Society, member of Liverpool Karate club and Liverpool Foxes Cheerleading, student representative for Law

Faisal Yousif

My name is Faisal Yousif and I am currently the Treasurer of Liverpool Labour Students and a 4th year Medic at the University.

For too long students on campus have had no idea what they can do within the NUS or what the NUS can do for them. I believe this is a failure of NUS' national leadership and at conference I will fight for this to change and for us to be able to have a meaningful say on national campaigns.

Vote for me and I'll be sure to fight for student mental health services, the Junior Doctor's contract, protecting Wednesday afternoons for sports and against PREVENT.

If you have any questions just drop me a message on Facebook, thank for reading and I hope I can count on your vote!
