

#BeingBlackMeans

“Being a woman for me is be confident, graceful and as Mother Nature, fertile and life-giving. However, being a Black Woman is all that but more intensively. Is to be able and show to the world and to all those who judge us that we come in different colors from the lightest to the darkest and we all shine like a thousand diamonds.”

-Ana Matos