

Alcohol Impact Statement

Teesside University is committed to supporting student health and wellbeing and ensuring a safe, secure and inclusive campus community, where everybody feels welcome. A responsible culture around alcohol consumption is part of this approach.

We are pleased to work closely with our Students' Union to actively promote positive alternatives to social drinking and to ensure that a visible range of activities, which involve little or no alcohol, are available and accessible to our diverse student community.

In addition, we make information regarding the negative consequences of excessive alcohol consumption available to students via our website and provide a range of outreach activities covering irresponsible alcohol consumption and risky drinking behaviour. We have strong relationships with local partners, ensuring that support, guidance and referral is provided swiftly and by expert agencies, whenever required.
