

FAN COURT

- MUSIC -

HARRI ENDERSBY

Biography

Harri Endersby is a songwriter and musician whose music blurs the lines of the folk genre, drawing inspiration from both contemporary and traditional music, as well as the rugged landscape of County Durham, the place that she calls home.

After releasing her debut album Homes/Lives in 2017, she has toured England extensively, playing venues in every corner of the country. The album has had strong support from BBC Introducing on BBC Tees Radio along with radio play from BBC 6 Music, BBC Scotland, and BBC Wales. Her lyrics invite audiences to escape from the rush of life and step into the quiet joy of being connected to the natural world.

Harri Endersby's new 9-track album Mazes explores themes of home and belonging, inspired by her deep passion for the North East of England, as well as her ties with the Isle of Harris in the Outer Hebrides. Co-produced by Harri and her husband Rich Endersby-Marsh, the nine-track album features prestigious folk musicians Ciaran Algar, Toby Shaer and Ian Stephenson.

Mazes will be released in November 2019.

Quotes

"A joy to witness live"

NE Volume

"The dual guitars of this husband and wife duo wrap a cocoon around the spellbound audience"

North East Women in Music

"Musically brilliant storytelling song-writing at its finest is what Endersby and her group deal in"

The Bubble Magazine

Links

harriendersby.com
facebook.com/harriendersbymusic
twitter.com/harriendersby
instagram.com/harriendersby