

Your leading Salesforce
service provider in Switzerland,
Germany and Austria

PARX

PARX is a leading service provider for Salesforce in Switzerland, Germany and Austria.

→ Customised implementation with no compromises

PARX has offices in Zurich, Lausanne, Hamburg, Berlin and Munich. Our over 100 employees with expertise from over 200 Salesforce certifications and our experience of more than 1000 successful projects make PARX your partner of choice. We understand your business model, your strategic and operational objectives and we have been digitising business processes successfully with Salesforce for over 15 years.

→ Secure your investment in Salesforce – with the highest quality service, from analysis through to implementation

Extensive project experience means that we can familiarise ourselves with your processes quickly and digitise them efficiently. We deliver the project through systematic analyses, individual advice, reliable project methodology and appropriate training. Flexibility and proximity to our clients are the priorities throughout.

When it comes to implementing your requirements, we are able to draw on the entire range of options – from simple configuration to complex programming. We provide you with comprehensive advice, analyse your processes and configure Salesforce for you. Moreover, we are able to develop customised applications where necessary, migrate your data to the new system, integrate existing systems and train your users. Once the project is complete, we are also there for you to provide support.

→ We concentrate on Salesforce and focus entirely on you

Successful collaboration begins with a meeting. The aim is to take stock of your requirements and sketch out initial approaches to a solution. At the end of the consultancy meeting, we are in a position to make a decision together about how to proceed.

We look forward to meeting you.

100% Salesforce

We concentrate exclusively on Salesforce. Our enthusiasm for it is based on many years of experience from hundreds of client projects and on our own use of Salesforce across the board.

1000+ projects

Make the most of our experience from over 1000 projects, ranging from 3-person start-ups to medium-sized companies and international corporations.

The best of two methodologies

We work with the traditional system of project management, combined with agile methodologies like Scrum. As a result, we guarantee that we will be able to provide you with a fast overview of the project status, the milestones and the budget. Scrum also offers the opportunity to exercise influence in real time and delivers quick visible solutions.

At your service

Zurich, Lausanne, Hamburg, Berlin and Munich - we are always close at hand. Our individual offices all have local roots, but we also think globally.

Partners in success

Our over 100 staff are committed to implementing Salesforce and have over 200 Salesforce certifications. We are therefore in a position to successfully deliver your project.

Secure your investments

Our high quality standards, from analysis to implementation, secure your investment in Salesforce.
