

What stage of your research career are you at?

Please rank the importance of each activity you have taken part in:

Preparation Day in Plymouth	Not at all important	Not very important	Neutral	Fairly important	Very important
Sources of information/trust (EU referendum)
Finding papers for the big questions (paywalls)
Snacks
Where to find scientific info/how to judge it (charts)
Main Workshop in Plymouth	Not at all important	Not very important	Neutral	Fairly important	Very important
Sources of information/trust (marine plastics)
Introductory talk – about the project
Introductory talk – journals and peer review
Introductory talk – how science is funded
Free questions about how research works
Talk – how research ends up in the news
Fact checking media articles in pairs
Lunch
Research in pairs – defining the question
Research in pairs – answering the question

What is the most useful thing you have learned from AccessLab?

How has AccessLab made you think differently about your local area?

Is there anything else you would like to tell us about AccessLab?

Please rank the importance of each activity you have taken part in:

Workshop in Plymouth	Not at all important	Not very important	Neutral	Fairly important	Very important
Sources of information/trust (marine plastics)
Introductory talk – about the project
Introductory talk – journals and peer review
Introductory talk – how science is funded
Free questions about how research works
Talk – how research ends up in the news
Fact checking media articles in pairs
Lunch
Research in pairs – defining the question
Research in pairs – answering the question

What is the most useful thing you have learned from AccessLab?

How has AccessLab made you think differently about your local area?

Is there anything else you would like to tell us about AccessLab?

Which of these statements best describes your relationship with science?

- I work in a science related job or study a science subject
- I feel connected with science – I actively seek out science news, events, activities or entertainment
- I'm interested in science but I don't make a special effort to keep informed
- Science is not for me

How confident do you feel researching scientific questions/topics?

	Not at all confident	Not very confident	Neutral	Quite confident	Very confident
Start of the day
End of the day

How confident do you feel working with the other participant group (as opposed to your usual colleagues/peer groups)?

	Not at all confident	Not very confident	Neutral	Quite confident	Very confident
Start of the day
End of the day

How confident do you feel working with the other participant group (as opposed to your usual colleagues/peer groups)?

	Not at all confident	Not very confident	Neutral	Quite confident	Very confident
Start of the day
End of the day

How important do you think it is to publish your own research Open Access?

	Not at all important	Not very important	Neutral	Quite important	Very important
Start of the day
End of the day					