

Dear parents: More Happy days ...Sats are over and everyone showed up all four days. Well done Year 6. !! In fact since Sats came in for Year 6 over 20 years ago we have never had a pupil absent. A remarkable record. Also on Tuesday we got an unannounced inspection from Hackney to ensure we were in compliance with all regulations and legal requirements on Sats. Of course we were and passed with flying colours. Happens every five years or so. So well done year 6 and the traditional end of Sats barbie is now underway as I type. Pentecost Sunday coming up and the birthday of the church. FA Cup Final tomorrow and ...oh yes there's a Royal Wedding going on ...good luck to them both !!! Year 6 who's having ketchup and mustard .. great burgers read on for details !

School news next week

Monday Sats for Year 2 finish this week.

Wednesday ... Reception class assembly 9.15am all welcome.

Thursday ... Marlon and Moving Waves Drama Club 3.30pm.

Friday ...Inset Day school closed.

Pics of the week... Marlon and his Moving Waves drama club getting applause ...darling buds of May and Dimitri Payet in floods of tears a Marseille lost to Atletico Madrid on Wednesday ... he did the dirty when he left West Ham so delighted to see Atletico triumph 3-0 ..and he's out of the World Cup so nemesis strikes.

Late News... PA Meetings 22nd May in school 9.00am and also 23rd May 7.00pm in De Beauvoir Square Park to plan Summer Fair and other summery delights so come along.

and finally .. bought an amazing new fish tank for the main corridor yesterday from money I make doing Ofsted and Diocesan inspections. I always like to buy something that the whole school can enjoy so after half-term will be fully in operation and looks truly stunning . Hammers in for Benitez oh please God yes !! Enjoy the Royal Wedding and then sing Abide with me before the FA Cup could be a good Saturday.
