12th January 2018

Message from Head teacher: We were delighted to have Maya Plass, a Marine Biologist join us last Friday to launch our new topic 'What could I be?'. So far we are thoroughly enjoying challenging stereotypes. There have been some very interesting discussions in all classes. Our planned outcome is that by the end of this we will have broadened children's horizons as to what they are capable of achieving and raised their aspirations. We are thrilled to have parents joining us this afternoon to share their experience and what they enjoy about their careers. If you would like to do the same or know anyone else who can talk and inspire the children, please don't hesitate to contact us.

PE Kits & Water Bottles

It is important that EVERY child should have a named PE kit and water bottle, in school, at all times. Increasing numbers of children do not have either. We will be checking to make sure all PE kits are in school, next week.

Request for Spare Clothes

If anybody has any old/outgrown clothes at home that can be donated to school for spares, we would be very grateful. Also, if your child gets sent home in spare clothes, please make sure these are brought back to school as we don't have much left due to it not being returned. Thank you.

Class News

Class Lynher - We have been thinking about stereotypes and how people can be mean to each other because of the colour of their skin, their name etc, when we should actually be proud of our differences. We have played netball and hockey in PE. In hockey we have been learning to dribble the ball with Mr Robinson. We have also been focussing on getting better at a skill we struggle with. Last Friday, we had a talk by Maya Plass who told us all about her job as a Marine Biologist - it sounds an amazing job to work so closely with the sea animals. By Maisie & Ronnie

Class Tamar - This week we have been looking at stereotypes. We have been talking about how it's ok to be individual and celebrating our differences. By Giorgia & Ollie

Year 2 - We have been learning about stereotypes and how we make assumptions about each other. We have also been learning about the different stages of development (babies, toddlers, children etc) and what you can do at each stage. In PE, we have been setting ourselves challenges and goals and trying to beat them. By Tirian & Chloe

Year 1 - We have learnt to use the part-whole model in maths. We have written a recount of the Christmas holidays and made shadow puppets. By Macey-Jae

Class Plym (FS) - We have been making repeating patterns. We liked using the musical instruments to make some too. The toys have been well looked after in our hospital role-play area. By Marcus & Henry
