School Staff Responding to Call-Outs

Staff nominated as out-of-hours key holders are sometimes required to attend site following the activation of the alarm. When they are called out they will not know what situation they will find and consequently systems need to be established which reduce the potential for them to be harmed.

It is considered that it is foreseeable that when attending a call out there is a potential for injury due to assault (which is rare) or as the consequence of an accident.

Kestrel Guards are the school's nominated representatives who will respond in an out-of-hours call out.

The school will assess the risks to these individuals and introduce suitable control measures to ensure that all risks are minimised.

Call Out Arrangements

The school has call out arrangements that reduce the possibility of injury to staff and which ensure that if an incident occurs support will be provided.

Security Firm Personnel Attendance

Having a contract with a security firm who will respond to alarm activations without recourse to a school key holder or who will arrange for someone to meet and staff with the key holder whilst they check the site.

Kestrel Guards

Should a staff member attend the school site following a call out, they should normally contact the Headteacher (or in the instance of the Headteacher being the responder, they should contact the Assistant Headteacher) on arrival at site, at regular intervals whilst on site, when leaving the site and when arriving safely home.

A member of staff should not enter a building alone unless there is an urgent and important need to do so before assistance arrives.

No member of staff is expected to enter a building where it is believed that there is a significant risk.

A copy of the procedures introduced to control these risks is attached and available to all staff electronically in the school policies folder. Following an event the risk assessment and procedures should be reviewed and further controls implemented if appropriate.
