Our 'School Offer' for Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) 2018-2019

SEN Support at Archbishop Benson Primary School

As a school we have a clear approach to identifying and responding to SEN. We work in partnership with parents to establish the support the child needs. It is particularly important in the early years that there is no delay in making any necessary special educational provision.

SEN Support builds on high quality teaching which has been differentiated and personalised for individual children and should be firmly based in the setting's approach to monitoring the progress and development of all children.

SEN Support is designed to provide a graduated approach based on a cycle of action that can be revisited with increasing detail, increasing frequency and with the increased involvement of parents. Throughout the graduated approach, the teacher remains responsible for working with the child on a daily basis and implements agreed interventions. The SENCO supports the teacher and leads and co-ordinates the graduated approach across the setting.

We adopt a graduated approach with four stages of action: assess, plan, do and review.

This cycle of action:

- Is usually led by the SENCO and the class teacher
- Parents are engaged throughout
- Action is informed by the child's views throughout
- The cycle can be revisited in order to identify the best way of securing good progress

Throughout the cycle, children's views can be represented by parents and practitioners, but in order to ensure the child's views inform the process directly, these need to be captured before any discussion. They also inform discussions and decisions at each stage.

Assess, plan, do, review cycle

Assess

The teachers work with the SENCOs and the child's parents and:

- Brings together all the information
- Analyses the child's needs

This discussion will build on, and may be held at the same time as, the discussion with parents about their child's SEN and the decision to make special educational provision for them.

Special educational needs are generally thought of in 4 broad areas of need and support:

- Communication and interaction
- Cognition and learning
- Social, emotional and mental health
- Sensory and/or physical needs

These broad areas of need are not definitive; the SEN and disability Code of Practice recognises that individual children often have needs that cut across all of these areas and that children's needs may change over time. The SEN and disability Code of Practice is also clear that the purpose of identification is to work out what action is needed, not to fit a child into a category. Where there is a need for more specialist expertise to identify the nature of the child's needs, or to determine the most effective approach, specialist teachers, educational psychologists or health, social services or other agencies may need to be involved.

Plan

Where the broad approach to SEN Support has been agreed, the teacher and the SENCO should agree, in consultation with the parent:

- The outcomes they are seeking for the child
- The interventions and support to be put in place
- The expected impact on progress, development, behaviour
- Date for review

Plans should:

- Take into account the views of the child
- Select the interventions and support to meet the outcomes identified
- Base interventions and support on reliable evidence of effectiveness
- Be delivered by practitioners with relevant skills and knowledge
- Identify and address any related staff development needs

Do

The child's teacher:

- Remains responsible for working with the child on a daily basis
- Implements the agreed interventions or programmes

The SENCO supports the key person in:

- Assessing the child's response to action taken
- Problem solving
- Advising on effective implementation

Review

On the agreed date, the teacher and SENCO working with the child's parents, and taking into account the child's views, should:

- Review the effectiveness of the support
- Review the impact of the support on the child's progress
- Evaluate the impact and quality of support

In the light of child's progress, they agree:

- Any changes to the outcomes
- Any changes to the support and
- Next steps

Answers to Frequently asked Questions

1. How does your school know if children need extra help and what should I do if I think my child may have special educational needs?

Regular assessment and discussions between teachers and the SENCOs enable ongoing monitoring of whether a child has a specific, individual special educational need.

If you are concerned about any aspect of your child's learning or development please talk to your child's class teacher or one of our SENCOs. Working collaboratively as a staff team and with parents/carers ensures the very best outcomes for your child.

2. Who is responsible for the progress and success of my child in school?

The class teacher is responsible for the progress of all the children in their class. They are supported by the Senior Management of the school and the SENCOs. If children are SEN support on the school's Record of Need, there will be termly meetings to discuss their progress and the best way to accelerate their progress and success.

3. How will I know how my child is doing and how will you help me to support my child's learning?

Regular parent/teacher interviews will inform you about your child's progress. You are welcome to discuss concerns at any other time either with your child's class teacher or the SENCOs. All children on our school Record of Need will have an additional meeting once a term to discuss targets and progress.

4. What SEND training have the staff at school had or are having?

All staff are given regular opportunities for professional development both in school and on external courses.

This training includes Autism Awareness, De-escalation, Precision teaching, Implementing the new SEN reforms and Better Reading Partnership.

5. How will my child be included in activities outside the classroom including school trips?

All children are encouraged and supported so that they can participate in clubs and on school trips. Individual risk assessments are carried out for children with additional needs and the appropriate support is provided.

6. Who can I contact for further information?

We have an open door policy and you are welcome to talk to any member of staff about concerns or queries. If it is specifically regarding SEN, please come and talk to the SENCOs.

7. How is your school offer reviewed?

The school offer is a working document as we are constantly reviewing our support and interventions.
