

A word from Mrs Farren...

You may be aware of the news headlines (BBC): 'Thousands of head teachers in England are warning about a "school funding crisis" and say they are angry that the education secretary has "snubbed" them.'

I would like to reassure you that Norton will not, at this time, need to cut staffing however funding is an issue for education as it is with health and social care. The combination of cuts in these 3 crucial areas may have a huge detrimental impact on the lives of our children.

I have received an email inviting me to meet with the Schools' Minister in London 27th of this month to discuss funding. I will keep you informed of developments.

It has been a busy week in school. This week I would like to thank Mr Spencer and Miss Neate for their presentation at the governor meeting which show cased the outstanding work they are doing in school.

Have a wonderful weekend
