

Small letters begin with an upstroke. They usually start from the line. Capital letters should not be joined and do not have an upstroke.

To begin with children will write their letters separately, without joining. Always watch when your child is practising especially in the early stages. Just 3 or 4 minutes practise each day is better than one long session

Praise every sign of success - never discourage.