

The School and the Heritage Centre held a joint exhibition to celebrate part of the school building having its one hundredth birthday.

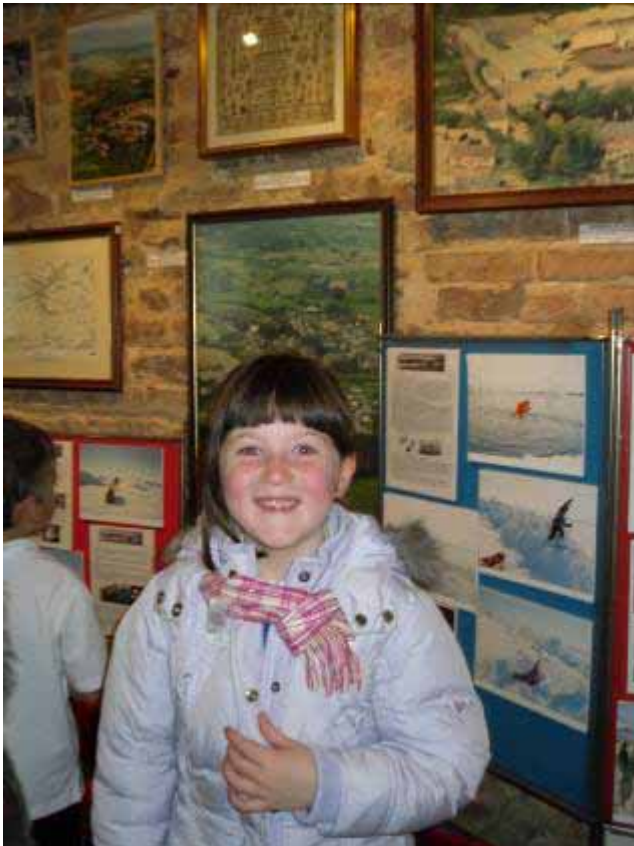

All the classes went for a visit and listened to a talk about the heritage centre and the history of the school and village.

The children enjoyed looking at the log books.

They found the 'punishment' book very interesting!

The children enjoyed seeing some of their work in the exhibition. The Heritage centre have now asked the children to design a membership card.
