

Mount Street Primary News

9th March

After a very snowy end to the week last week, things are now back to normal.

Even our Chair of Governors was out having fun!

Postponed because of the snow last week, we held our World book day event today and what a fantastic array of book characters appeared in the school. Thank you for your support with this. The costumes were fabulous.

During the day the children have been involved in reading activities as well as the creation of a 'whole school' story. This is the amazing story that they came up with, with each class contributing a part of it.

One freezing, cold day all of the children at an amazing school in Plymouth dressed up for World Book Day. Suddenly, a sparkling crash of yellow lightning appeared in the sky! The teachers looked around and saw all of their children had turned into the characters they had dressed up as! One boy was running around roaring like a dinosaur and one wizard was casting magical spells on everyone.

The teachers screamed in fright! Oh no there was a dinosaur running about in KS1, Red Riding hood was running from a big hairy wolf and Horrid Henry was tying up the teaching assistant with the help of Harry Potter! It was truly a sight to be seen thought the teachers as they peeped through a crack in the cupboard door. Mrs. Trunchbull was all for locking them in the Chokey but Harry Potter shouted a spell that made the Chokey explode! The Highway Rat was eating everyone's lunch and all the things in Red Riding Hood's basket! He was on his way to the staff room when a hungry Matilda Teacher shouted "Get away from my turkey twizzlers!" All the children heard the scream and ran towards the teachers' hiding place.

Quickly snatching the tiny, golden key from Mrs. Trunchbull's office desk, The Queen of Hearts led the children towards the underground trap door (behind which lay the magical place where the teachers would go and hide every day from the noisy and often smelly children.)

In the blink of an eye, the Queen had unlocked the marble and silver trap door. With the help of Crookshanks, Spidey and Goldilocks the Queen slowly opened the door but before she could enter through the door Marley jumped up from behind and knocked her down the creaky staircase. Dazed from the sudden fall, she gave out a loud cry and promptly fainted.

The children looked around confused and couldn't think what to do. Then Horrid Henry said, "I have an idea," and threw a Stink Bomb down. All the teachers started coughing because of Horrid Henry's Stink Bomb. The teachers grabbed Air Freshener and began to spray all over the place, trying desperately to combat the terrible smell. "Let us out!" shouted Miss Honey.

Desperate to escape, the teachers started to formulate a plan. Miss Honey, whose ribbon had started to become undone, had the bright idea of building a gigantic net to capture all the characters in. Frantically, the teachers searched the cupboard for string or wool (luckily they found a whole box full).

Exhaustedly, they began to tie multiple bits of string together. Miss Honey bent over to pick up a piece of string. Suddenly, a tarnished, gold hair pin fell out of her and clattered on the floor. At that moment, she realised how they would escape the cramped cupboard.

Miss Honey, who had been a star pupil at Mrs Mahoney's and Mrs Paul's knitting club, began frantically knitting. What could it be? The click of the needles intrigued the teachers as they watched on in amazement. The creation seemed to develop a life of its own as it grew and grew and grew. "What are you producing with such ferocity?" asked a curious Mrs Crumb.

"Can you see what it is yet?" questioned Miss Honey enthusiastically.

The teachers stared in amazement as what Miss Honey was knitting materialised - it was a large hole. She was actually knitting a hole! Why?

Miss Honey looked up and smiled as she proudly cast off and showed what she had created. "As I have made a hole, we can now all climb through it and escape from this terrible situation!" So that's exactly what they did.

Apologies but owing to an essential meeting the Parents Forum advertised for next Tuesday will have to be postponed until the 20th March at 9:00am.

Devonport Library is holding a science day on Saturday 10th March which parents and children are invited to. For more details, look at the advert below.

Join us to celebrate British Science Week at Devonport Library on Saturday 10 March 10am to 4pm

10am Code Club

11am Rhymetime

11.30am The Very Hungry Code-a-Pillar Coding for the under 5s

12 noon Sphero Dance Party with City College Plymouth

1pm National Marine Aquarium Slime Show

2pm Rosie Revere workshop

3pm National Marine Aquarium Slime Show

All day

Science crafts, Hello World, coding and digital making, Dementia Friends activities, Micro:bits, 3D printing, paper circuits and more.

Plus win a MakeyMakey!

Science Festival

Devonport Library

Saturday 10 March 2018 10am to 4pm

National Marine Aquarium Slime Show

Sphero Dance Party

Rosie Revere workshop

Code Club

Dementia Friends

The Very Hungry Code-a-Pillar

Micro:bits, 3D printing, paper circuits and more...

For Your Diary
	Date	When	Who	What
Spring	March
	12	9:15	YR and 1	1 st Fluoride Application
	13	4:30	Y6 Parents	SATs information evening
	14	3:10	Children	FOMSS Disco
	19	All day	Y6	Dartmoor Zoo visit
	19	5:30	All	Governors Finance and Personnel Committee
	20	9:00	Parents	Parent Voice
	20	1:45	Y5	Fire Safety Talk
	22	2:30	All	Home Learning Exhibition
	23	All day	Y6	PHSG Music Day
	29	1:00	Y5 and 6	Twelfth Night Performance
	30	All Day	All	Easter Holiday
Summer	April
	16	All Day	All	Back to School
	16	All Day	Me2 and Nursery	Closed for Cleaning
	23	3:30	Parents	Parents Meeting