Well what can I say? A huge thank you to all of the Benton Park staff who were able to get in to school which allowed us to keep the school open. Thank you to everyone who has attended as normal, we do appreciate it can be very difficult when the weather is so bad.

Book week was never meant to be so eventful with all the snow and the changes to personnel. Some staff even used this opportunity to get dressed up as a word – warm – with woolly scarves, hats and big coats! A special thanks and mention to Mr Price who was out clearing paths as quickly as they were covered in snow again.

As you will see from the fantastic photographs below, World Book Day went ahead as planned. Well done to everyone! We had some fantastic costumes. Some of you have a wonderful imagination. See if you can guess the words? You can see more on the blogsite here <http://head.bentonparkblogs.net/2018/03/01/world-book-day-4/>

Mad March Reading Challenge

Please get started on the Mad March reading challenge which came out last week. Further sheets can be downloaded from the website http://www.bentonpark.newcastle.sch.uk/website/mad_march_reading_challenge_/338517

World Book Day book tokens are also on their way to you. We are just waiting for them to arrive in school. We are chasing them up! I hope you enjoyed the opportunity to shop in the book fair. Thanks to Mr Croom for organising this.

I am really sorry that I have to share some very sad news with you all. Margaret, who worked in Benton Buttons, sadly passed away unexpectedly on Monday night. As you can imagine, this has come as a huge shock to us all.

I know you will all join me as I pass on our condolences to her daughter and family at this very sad time.
