

Message from Mr Waddington and Mrs Mavin

Happy Half Term!

Today is the last day of term for this half term. We would like to take the opportunity to say a huge THANK YOU to you all for your support, encouragement, kind words and strength over the last few weeks. It has really been incredible!

We are so proud of our Whytemead community for, once again, rising to the challenge. So much has been achieved over such a short time by everyone, at home and at school, from taking on board Google Classroom, adjusting to learning at home, joining zooms, being part of daily Google Meets! Thank you for keeping the faith and committing to these innovations so well. We are sending each and every one of you a virtual pat on the back!

As next week is half term, we will not be setting any home learning and our staff will be taking a break. Therefore, staff will not be responding to their emails or Google Classroom until Monday 22nd February.

However, we will continue to monitor our Office emails: office@whytemead.school

If you or your child tests POSITIVE for COVID19 over half term you MUST email the office email as soon as possible. This is very important as, if you child tests positive within 48 hours of being in direct contact with other children, we will be asking everyone who has had contact to isolate.

Screen Free Friday

Thank you to everyone who took part in my screen free Friday challenge last week. I was inundated with amazing houses built for mini figures! There's some real architectural talent out there! Here's a taste of some of the creations - sorry if yours is not here but there are just too many to show!

Thanks again, Mrs Mavin x

Some great work here everyone! Bravo!

Wishing you all a safe and happy half term. Term starts again on the 22nd February, we will continue with our Google Meets, so please join in!
Stay safe, Mr Waddington & Mrs Mavin
