Prediction – Seth Mannsaker

I think that the elf will go on an exciting (and possibly dangerous) quest with his brother. I think that they will find a peculiar creature and face many challenges. There will probably be an evil villain. (There always is in these sort of movies) that will perhaps try to steal someone's magical powers or something evil guys do. The villain might be a human that has found out about the unusual creatures and wants to have the powers for himself. The human might be hiding in the village and is after only one power. The elf's power. But the elf and his brother might find out and they might try and stop him by maybe kidnapping him or throwing him off the highest mountain in the world into a wolf's mouth.
