

A MAMMALS LIFE CYCLE

Mammals produce offspring (live young). All mammals' life cycles are very similar although the gestation period (amount of time it takes a mammal to develop) varies widely.

Here is an example of a dog's life cycle.

Your Task

Can you complete the life cycle of a human? Use the captions above to help describe the different parts of the cycle. You could draw it or give an oral recital.

