

Good Autism Practice

A full day training programme for educational practitioners wanting to develop their understanding of autism and gain practical knowledge of classroom strategies to help their autistic pupils.

The course is a mixture of presentation and practical workshop- type activities and can be tailored to a school or setting's particular needs.

Aims of the training

To increase awareness of autism

To develop greater understanding of the difficulties encountered by autistic pupils

To have an understanding of good autism practice and be able to develop classroom strategies from an autism perspective

Course Content

Key facts about autism

The 4 areas of difference and strategies to support pupils in these areas- communication, social understanding, thinking and learning and sensory.

Helping the pupil to manage stress and anxiety

Understanding the behaviour

Reflection time is included for participants to reflect on their own practice and share thoughts and ideas with colleagues.