

Thematic Planning: 22 – 26 February 2021

Monday

Today, let's talk about the weather. The weather is what you see when you look out of your window.

What was the weather like at the beginning of this week's story, when Percy the Park Keeper looked out of his window?

There was a storm - thunder and lightning and pouring rain! The weather was stormy.

Watch this short video to learn some more words that describe what the weather might be like when you look out of your window.

Tuesday

Yesterday, we learnt about some different types of weather.

Today, have some fun identifying sounds and playing listening games about the weather.

Wednesday

Today, I have a little nature challenge for you!

At the very end of this week's story, 'After the Storm', Percy the Park Keeper takes something out of his pocket and holds it in his hand. He then tells his animal friends that he has, "one job left to do back at the little hill!"

Can you see what he is holding in his hand? Do you know what it is?

Here is a closer look!

What job do you think Percy is going to do back at the little hill? If you need a bit of help, look at the picture below. What is Percy holding in his other hand? What do you think he might use it to do?

Why do you think this job is important to Percy the Park Keeper?

Thursday

Yesterday, I gave you a nature challenge.

What was Percy holding at the end of the story? What job was he going to do back at the little hill? Why did he want to do that job?

Here's some help with the 'job' he was going to do back at the little hill!

Here are some reasons to explain 'why' Percy wanted to do that job!

Friday

I loved our story this week, 'After the Storm'.

As a treat at the end of the week, sit back and enjoy the story again. Here is the man, who wrote the story and drew the pictures, reading his own book!

Which is your favourite part of the story?

This picture shows one of my favourite parts of the story. Can you guess why I like it?

Yes! It shows Percy and his animal friends all working together and helping each other.

They are working as a team. We call this teamwork.

Teamwork helped them to build a terrific tree house and a wonderful, new home for everyone!

Do you work as a team, at home or at school, sometimes?
