

Thematic Planning

Monday

Today shall we draw one of the main characters from our story?

How about having a try at drawing Blue Kangaroo? I think you will need to work with a grown-up but that will make it even more fun!

Now, the person showing us how to draw Blue Kangaroo (in the link below) is Lily, the little girl from the story, I Love You, Blue Kangaroo!

Tuesday

Last week's story was all about a penguin and this week's story is all about a kangaroo.

Shall we find out a bit about kangaroos? Then we might compare that animal to a penguin. Do they both live in the same part of the world?

Perhaps we might do that tomorrow! For now it might help to learn all about the world itself!

Ready? Ok, let's go explore!

Wednesday

After yesterday's lesson, I think we all know a bit more about our world!

Now, shall we find out all about kangaroos?

After that, you might like to think about penguins and kangaroos and whether they are similar animals or very different animals?

Do they both live in the same part of the world? Do they eat the same food?

Have a think and a chat with someone in your family. What do you think? Are they similar or very different animals?

Here is a website where you can find out about both penguins and kangaroos.

Thursday

Today watch this lovely clip about a baby kangaroo and join in with the kangaroo song!

Friday

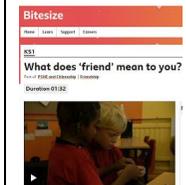

In English today we were thinking about being friends.

What makes a good friend?

Here are a couple of short video clips that you might want to watch before you think about this question.

Finally, why not finish the day with this great song from Toy Story - You've Got a Friend in Me.
