

How will concerns be voiced?

If your child is identified as not making sufficient progress, the school will write to you or will set up a meeting to discuss this with you in more detail.

We will:

Listen to any concerns you may have too.

Plan any additional support your child may need.

Discuss with you any referrals to outside professionals to support your child's learning.

