

Cover me up

You will each need a board. Take it in turns to take a domino. Add the two numbers together. Cover up the answer with your domino. If you don't have the answer, return it to the domino pile. Winner is the first to cover their board.

You could vary this by taking away the numbers on the domino and talking about which is the largest number and which way round the sum should go. You could also multiply the numbers on the domino and have a different answer board.
